JUST WHAT THE DOCTOR ORDERED I.

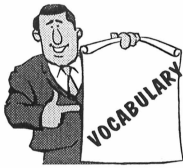

Pramen: Robinson, B., B.A., Tell me, tell us ..., Slovenské pedagogické nakladateľstvo, Bratislava, 1992.

My father has been acting rather strangely lately. A few days ago he began to worry about his health. "Oh dear, " he said looking in the mirror. "I'm getting old. I think I'm losing my hair." "No, you aren't, dear, "said mum. "You are not losing it. I know exactly where you have left most of it. On the pillow."

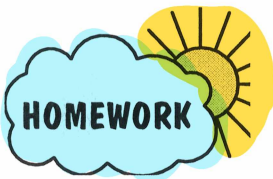

"Do you think I'm getting fat?" he asked me. "Of course not, Dad. Can you just breathe in and let me pass? I'm late for school again."

Despite our reassurances, my father decided to take action. The next day at breakfast, he made an announcement: "This family is very unhealthy. We must do something about it. I have decided we should change our daily routine. We should eat more healthily, do some exercises, go to bed earlier and get up earlier."

"Oh, Dad, I hate getting up early." "You know the saying, son. Early to bed, early to rise, makes you healthy, wealthy and wise. "
