Nová gramatika: Vedlejší věty časové

Dbejte rozdílu:

AS LONG AS = (tak dlouho,) dokud

TILL = UNTIL = dokud ne

Příklady:

As long as you drink, you won't get a job. = Dokud budeš pít, nedostaneš práci.

Till / until you stop drinking, you won't get a job. = Dokud nepřestaneš pít, nedostaneš práci.

2. Translate! Write the English sentences in your exercise book!

Nová gramatika: Vedlejší věty časové

Se spojkou WHILE se často používá průběhový čas:

Příklady:

While he was reading, she was watching TV. = Zatímco četl, dívala se na televizi.

While he was sleeping, she left. = Zatímco spal, odešla.

5. Fill in the correct forms of the verbs in brackets! Then translate into Czech!

1. While he (work) was working in the garden, his father (repair) repaired the car.

Zatímco pracoval v zahradě, jeho otec spravil auto.

2. She (prepare) prepared dinner while her children (play) were playing.

Zatímco si její děti hrály, připravila večeři.

3. They (study) were studying hard while their friends (sit) were sitting in the pub.

Studovali tvrdě zatímco jejich přátelé seděli v hospodě.

4. While the warden (have a snack) was having a snack the robbers (steal) stole the picture.

Zatímco správce svačil, zloději ukradli ten obraz.

5. While the ladies (chat) were chatting the dog (run) ran away.

"In the kitchen"

Read and complete!

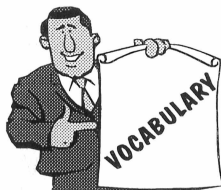

Before Mrs. Richards goes on business trip she gives her children some advice:

"I have left plenty of food for you in the fridge and the freezer. You can use the microwave to defrost and heat the frozen stuff, but read the instructions on the packets carefully. And don't forget to clear up after you have eaten. There's no need to use the dishwasher unless you've got a lot of dirty dishes. If you make fried or scrambled eggs, remember to soak the pan immediately. And don't forget to switch the gas off after you've been cooking - we nearly had a fire last time, didn't we?

And do me a favour, please - don't leave all your dirty laundry for me to do when I get back. If you have not enough to fill the washing machine, use the economy cycle. That doesn't waste so much water. Talking of which, could you use only filtered water in the coffee-maker, please? And if a slice of bread gets stuck in the toaster, make sure you unplug it before you start stabbing forks into it. I'd like to find you all alive and well when I get back.

nearly	[niəli]	= skoro
plenty of	[plenti ...]	= spousta
slice	[slais]	= plátek, krajíc; krájet na plátky
soak	[səuk]	= (důkladně) namočit
stab	[stæb]	= bodat, bodnout
unless	[an'les]	= pokud ne, ledaže (by)

Complete!

1. If you make fried eggs, remember soak the pan immediately.
2. A slice of bread got stuck in the toaster.
3. Don't leave all your dirty laundry for me to do when I get back.
4. Use the economy cycle! It doesn't waste so much water.
5. Use only filtered water in the coffee-maker.
