Morning smile

I think there should be a law against people who smile and sing in the morning. There's nothing worse, when your feet feel like lead, you are cold to the bone and you are fighting just to keep your eyes open, than some jovial person assaulting you with a cheery hello and a set of bright, beaming teeth!

What does the author make clear?

- A) He is upset when people make fun at the expense of others.
 B) He hates it when other people are in a good mood after getting up in the morning.
 C) He thinks it is a pity that people aren't cheerful after getting up in the morning.
 D) He isn't happy about being in a mood himself after getting up in the morning.

Str. 124 / cv. 4: Discussion topic. Express your opinion. Tell the others whether you agree with the statement or not, and why: You should look after your parents when they are old.

např.

Our parents are the two most important people in our lives for a very long time, they take care of us and provide us with everything we need during the crucial part of our development, so it is, of course, only natural that we should take care of them too when they get old. Many young people end up forgetting about their aging parents, and I think that is very ungrateful of them.

Str. 124 / cv. 5: Describe the picture. What do you think about these people?
např.

On this picture we can see a happy scene at the beach, probably during a summer family holiday. You can see four people standing in the water and playing with a ball, there is the sky with clouds in the background and something that looks like three sailing ships, too.

Str. 125 / homework: Do you agree with the author of the article? Why? Why not? Write about five sentences in your exercise book.

např.

I only agree with this statement partially. I also tend to not like other people being too cheerful when I'm feeling grumpy, but usually it doesn't happen in the morning. I am a rather morning person, so I usually don't get moody in the morning unless I'm thinking about some worries that I have. Usually I much prefer when people are happy, as if lifts my spirits too.
